Full Telegraphic Report.

NEW YORK, March 5th 1880.
J. H. Kogler:
Will begin service on night reports to you on Monday next.

J. W. SIMONSON.

We are preparing to make a raid on all delinquents next week and hope all those owing the GAZETTE will be prepared to come down promptly with hard cash. We want all outstanding funds in hand in order to put in a power press as well as to add largely to the type and stock, thus increasing our facilities for doing printing rapidly and well. We will commence Monday with the Associated press dispatches, the same as given in the Pueblo Chieftain including full midnight report. This incurs a very large cash outlay and we look to the good people of Las Vegas and the Territory generally to afford us a liberal patronage in order to justify it. There is no good reason why large sums of money should be sent out of the territory to Colorado papers when the same news can be given at home and thus build up and support our own country.

The GAZETTE will carry to every subscriber in town, news as brought over the wires to the very last minute. It will be mailed every morning in time to catch the Pecos, Fort Stanton, Fort Bascom and Vinita mail lines. It will be sent to Santa Fe by the morning train leaving here at 8 o'clock and arriving at Santa Fe in the afternoon. In a few weeks, the main line of the railroad will reach the Rio Grande valley where it can be sent to the towns along the line on the afternoon of each day it is printed. It will likewise be sent up the line to Watrous, Wagon Mound, Mora and Colfax counties by the earliest mails.

The GAZETTE will not only contain the latest telegraphic news but additional interest will be taken to give full local and Territorial news.

Canvassers have already been sent into the field and we hope our friends throughout the Territory and particularly on these important lines of Daily mails will extend a cheering and substantial patronage.

An interesting judicial decision has recently been rendered in Baltimore in the case of a conditional bequest. A gentleman, who died in that city some time since, left by will a house and lot to his two sisters, to hold as joint tenants as long as they remained single, but if one married the property was to go to the other. One of them did marry, and then brought suit against her sister for half the property, claiming that the provision was against the policy of the law in restraint of marriage. The judge decided the provision to be valid as a limitation which terminated the estate, and the unmarried sister is thus secured in the undivided possession of the entire property.

The circulation of stories affecting the character of Miss Meeker is as uncalled for as it is outrageous. Even if the intimations were based on fact, they are not a proper subject for public comment. This young lady is entitled to sympathy for her sufferings, and any effort to belittle and blacken her fame in connection with the affair which has brought her prominently before the public, is only an indirect way of sympathizing with her persecutors.—Leadville Herald.

On Oak Creek about fourteen miles from Silver Cliff, and four miles south of Yorkville, is situated the Terrible claim, which has developed into one of the most wonderful lead mines in the world. The vein has been traced one thousand feet in length, and is one hundred and ten feet wide. Experts who have examined the mine state that there is ore enough in the mine to keep twelve smelters running constantly for fifty years.

The Mitchell troupe is still playing to full houses in Santa Fe.

Gambling.

To the Editor of the Gazette:

Gambling is the fruitful source of most of the outrages of the knife and the revolver. It is the foundation, in fact, of a life of shame and dishonor. The steps that are being taken by certain citizens, to overthrow the nuisance in Las Vegas are in the line of law and order, and will meet with the endorsement of all who love the right. But when parties, in this way, attempt to victimize an innocent person then there should be force enough in the law to deal a commensurate blow upon the head of the man guilty of such meanness.

One of the leading hotel keepers has been arrested on a charge of keeping a gambling house. Now, it is well known by this community that the hotel he keeps is as free from gambling as any private house in Las Vegas. The use of cards, or dice, or anything used for gambling purposes are not allowed in the public rooms of the house, and were any of the guests of the house suspected of any such practices in their rooms, they would be kindly remonstrated with, and requested to avoid the same in future.

Saving a Train.

On Sunday evening last an incident occurred on the Western railroad that will cause surprise wherever it is spoken of. The train was within about thirty miles of Montgomery, running at a rapid rate, all unconscious of danger. The engineer spied a white handkerchief on a pole, flitting in the road some distance up the track. On getting nearer he discovered it was some one waving the train down. The shrill whistle was sounded, brakes put on and the train brought to a standstill. The heads of the passengers were popping out of the windows, inquiring what the trouble was, no station being near.

The conductor came out, and seeing a tramp was the one who had caused the train to stop, inquired in probably a rather angry manner what was wanted. This man who belonged to a class almost universally despised and subject to cuffs and kicks, astonished the conductor by informing him that about eighteen inches of rail was broken out a short distance further on. The broken piece was repaired, the train about to move off, when the conductor saw the tramp standing on the roadside, asked:

"Where do you want to go to?"
The tramp replied, "To Pensacola."
"Then," said the conductor, "why don't you get on the train?"

The reply was, "Because I have no money."
The conductor told him to get aboard, that he would take him to Montgomery. On arriving in the city the fact was reported to the general manager of the road, who asked the man what he would have, money or work. The man answered that he would rather have employment. A position was at once given him. At last accounts he was at work and doing well.—Columbus (Ga.) Enquirer.

The chairman of the democratic state committee of Ohio says there are 40,000 German voters in that state, and that of these the Catholics are all democratic, and always have been. He claims that their number is so great as to give them the balance of power. The Protestant Germans, he says are republicans, almost to a man, and they may be expected to support the nominee of the party.

The immense wheat farms of Dakota, worked by the famous farmer, Oliver Dalrymple, are to be still further enlarged the coming year. His wheat field will embrace 30,000 acres. He will have twenty steam threshers in operations with 135 reaping machines. Last year he employed 600 laborers, and this year will increase the number to 700.

"Straight where she strayed, with stride he strode,
Sad sighed he on the sod and said,
"Say, see I sigh, and sue you so,"
She had no heed, but hid her head.
Maud's mood the mud of mead made mad;
No answer knew she now but 'No.'"

He went to inquire after the health of the young damsel who has charge of his neighbor's dairy, and when he asked "How's the milk maid?" they slammed the door in his face and told him to go and ask the cows whom manufactured the article.

Leadville's Location.

The Elizabeth (New Jersey) Herald is authority when it comes to geography. It says that Leadville is situated two hundred and ten miles south from Pueblo, in Arizona. It has a population of twenty five hundred half-breeds and Mexican Miners. The camp was attacked by the Indians last fall and the entire white population sought refuge in the fort at Fairplay. There are two or three very rich silver mines in the neighborhood, notably the Little Pittsburg, situated about three miles from Leadville, on what is known as Iowa mountain. The inhabitants of the camp have no communication with the outside world during the winter except by snow-shoe express. Letters are brought out once a week by men, principally half-breeds, on snow-shoes. They receive a Mexican dollar for carrying a letter two hundred miles.

Vanderbilt's Wealth.

Mr. William H. Vanderbilt, of New York, has all along been investing his hard-earned savings in United States bonds until he had $25,000,000 invested in four per cents. Now he comes out again with five millions and a half more bonds registered in his name the same way. The investment is in $50,000 bonds, and Mr. Vanderbilt could carry them all in his coat pocket without inconvenience. Upon these bonds Vanderbilt will draw over $300,000 interest every ninety days.

The Pistol Again.

We hear from El Moro that Charlie Mager was accidentally shot Wednesday evening. He and a young companion were having a little sport snapping pistols at each other, each possessing a single-barreled pistol. After they had continued their sport for some time; the pistol in the hands of young Menger's companion exploded and emptied, a charge of small shot into the back of the unfortunate boy. He is in no immediate danger, but suffers considerably from the perforations.—Trinidad News.

To be a lady's maid in Rome requires pretty high accomplishments. One is advertised in a Rome paper who must be from 20 to 30 years of age, disengaged, and of distinguished education; very skillful with the needle and in making up fine things. She must be of sympathetic turn, of elegant figure, and possess linen and good clothes, good enough for going out with and attending her young mistress. She must send her photograph to a signor in Rome, who will personally inspect those young ladies who present themselves to compete for the situation.

When Washington was on his way to Red Bank, just 109 years ago, he slept one night at Chew's landing, a village which is also in New Jersey. Next morning he was surprised to find that half the inhabitants had formed themselves into a delegation to ask of him a contribution toward a new Episcopal church. He not only gave the contribution but signed the church book, and so did Carroll of Carrollton. The book has been religiously preserved in the vestry, and every governor of New Jersey has for many years given something to keep the building in order. Now, however it is to be torn down, and a commonplace brick church erected.

A pretty American girl in Rome went frequently into the streets unattended, contrary to the custom there. The young Romans followed an annoyed her, until she invented a novel method of rebuffing them. She provided herself with a pocketful of centesimi, each the value of a fifth of a cent, and whenever a man spoke to her, pretending to utterly mistake his words, she gracefully extended her hand, saying, in her broken Italian, "Hungry, are you, poor man? Well, take this and buy some bread."

With more frequent steam communications between the United States and Brazil, aided by a differential tariff in our favor, Brazil might retain for many years her immense export trade to this country. There must, of course, be liberal concessions to the Brazilians, and such concessions would perhaps be as much in the interests of our manufacturers as of her own planters and merchants.—Boston Herald.

The San Pedro and Cañon del Agua grants covering the new placers have been lately purchased by eastern capitalists for $500,000.

The twenty-fifth anniversary of the accession of the Czar was celebrated on the 2d at St. Petersburg with great circumstance, and despite all nihilist threats and warnings, the day passed without disaster and without the discovery of any plot upon his life. It is significant of the revolution that has occurred that when, a quarter of a century ago, he ascended the throne, millions of the people were in a state of wretched serfdom; the government was an absolute despotism; and he was beloved by all classes. By a stroke of the pen he freed the serfs. His reign has been characterized by progressive liberalism. But to-day he is practically little else than a prisoner in his own palace. He has been compelled to delegate his imperial powers to a supreme commission, which in reality is a private body guard to save him from assassination, and has been driven, for self-preservation, to abandon the liberal policy upon which he set out.

Let Kaitoch Be Impeached.

Articles of impeachment should at once be drawn against I. S. Kaitoch, Mayor of this city, for incendiary and revolutionary harangues;—harangues calculated to excite mob violence and to overthrow the peace and security of San Francisco, the very city of which he is unfortunately the Mayor. No time should be lost in preparation of the Act. Nothing short of this will save us from utter disgrace, and perhaps, from the utter destruction of our property.—California Ind.

In thanking my customers for their liberal patronage in the past, I take this opportunity to notify the public that I have lately added a new steam engine to my mill and also two new runs of burrs, making in all, three runs of burrs ready for service. Notwithstanding the delay caused by the putting in of new machinery and the subsequent labor of getting it to work smoothly and properly, I have succeeded in getting everything in a splendid running order, and am therefore prepared to fill all orders for grinding, both wheat and feed, promptly. Good satisfaction will be given.

The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited. Address

WANTED—A Gardner to make a large MARKET GARDEN close to Watrous R. R. Station. An experienced Gardner and good and industrious man will get a good lay-out.

C. WILKENSSEN.

FOUND—A B. Stone's Rubber Gun Paint—A perfect protection for all outside surfaces: iron fences, lamp posts, sidewalk curbs, bridges, wood stoves, flues or iron roofs, spokes, staves, or anything exposed to the sun, rain, frost or heat. I will apply this paint for $1.25 per hundred feet, warranting it to last three times as long as any other paint, and it is frost proof; so by using it on outside rods it often saves other houses from burning by being near others when others are burning. After a rod has been painted with this paint you can light a pipe and throw it upon it and the paint will burn for hours without catching the rest of it. On fire or iron I warrant it not to crack, rot or blister. I can warrant this paint for seven years. Leave orders at the Gazette office. A. B. STONE.
